D.A. RANCH

1901 DANCING APACHE ROAD, CORNVILLE, AZ 86325

There's no doubt about it, Jeri's favorite stop to include on any wine tour is D.A. Ranch, a boutique vineyard in a historic location —known for exceptional wine tasting experiences and special events. Located just minutes from Sedona and Old Town Cottonwood, the ranch is nestled in a valley between House Mountain and Oak Creek, with some of the best views in the Verde Valley. Fed by natural artesian springs and harvested to create the 100% estate-grown, limited production wines, the vineyard produces some of the most unique wines in the region.

As Northern Arizona's only 100% estate-grown vineyard, many varietals are vinified on the property, including Syrah, Cabernet Sauvignon, Petite Sirah, Tannat and Seyval Blanc. Due to the unique micro climate and terrain, D.A Ranch wines are rich in minerals, highlighted by earth and fruit characteristics. Wine Tastings are available during select days from 11 a.m. – 6 p.m., and do not require reservations unless you are a group of 13 or more. The tasting room offers wines available for sale by the glass or as a tasting flight, and you can enjoy your wine experience in the tasting room, on the porch, or within the boundaries of any one of the expansive outdoor seating areas.

Invigorating HIKES

Sedona's breathtaking landscape has no shortage of hiking trails to experience on your visit. Whether you are looking for a physical challenge or a relaxing stroll through red rock country, Sedona is full of year-round hiking opportunities for all abilities. The Coconino National Forest is rich with towering cliffs, serene creeks, geologic formations, and juniper forests that are as picturesque as they are impressive.

Jeri's Favorite HIKES

Jeri's own love for the outdoors and a healthy lifestyle has led her to some of the most beautiful trails in the area. Here are a few of her top recommendations.

JAIL TRAIL FROM RIVERFRONT PARK OR OLD TOWN

Easily accessible from the old jail parking area on Main St. in Old Town Cottonwood, this easy 1.6-mile loop features massive Cottonwood trees and a family-friendly, dog-friendly trail that weaves through the Verde River Greenway State Natural Area.

CIBOLA PASS AND JORDAN TRAILS

Located in Uptown, The Cibola Pass Loop and Jordan Trail are some of our favorite hikes in Sedona. The Cibola Pass Loop (2 miles) is generally considered an easy route, and for the more adventurous, the Jordan Trail is a point to point trail that provides access to many miles of hiking trails in the Sacred Mountain Wilderness. Both trails allow you to experience some of the best vistas and red rock formations that the area has to offer. Cibola Pass and Jordan Trail are popular areas for hiking, trail running, and biking, so be prepared for other people to be around if you are visiting during peak time. The trail is open year-round, but the best times to visit are July through October. Dogs are welcome, but must be on a leash.

CRESCENT MOON RANCH

The cemented walkway that weaves through the park makes Crescent Moon Ranch a favorite for those who desire accessibility along with incredible views of Cathedral Rock. Oak Creek winds through most of the park, which gives the area a peaceful energy while maintaining its natural beauty year round. There is also a large picnic area with shared and non shaded picnic tables and a wheelchair accessible restroom. From here, you can visit Red Rock Crossing Vortex, one of Arizona's most iconic sites.

The Project Athena Foundation

Helping Survivors Live Their Adventurous Dreams

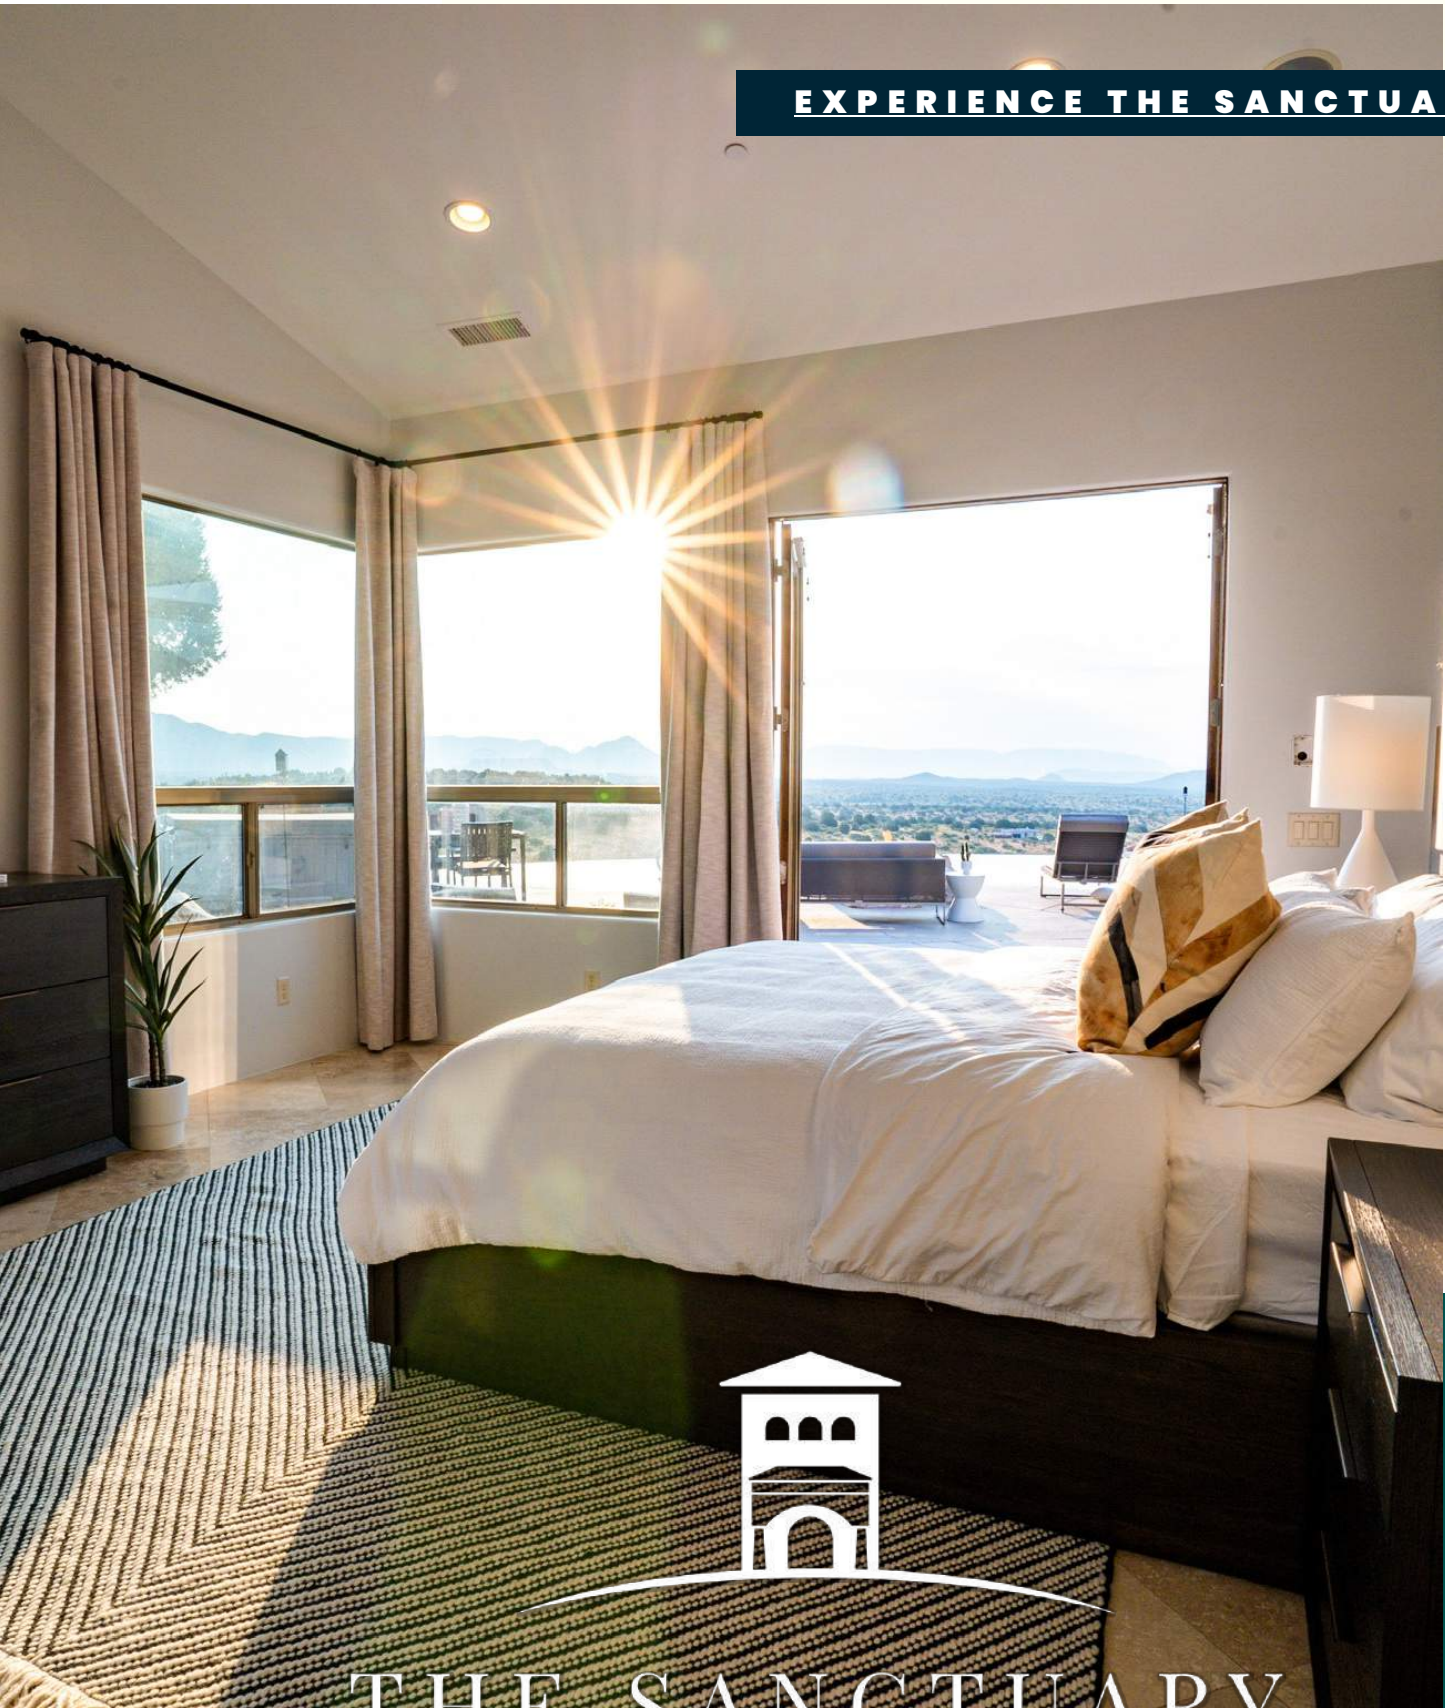

GOT ADVENTUROUS DREAMS?

Jeri's favorite Arizona non profit, which gives adventure grants to Survivors, is the Project Athena Foundation. If you're a Survivor of a medical or traumatic setback or would love to not just take a hike but GIVE a hike for a great cause, come hike across the Grand Canyon or do the Red Rocks Walking Marathon in Sedona with The Project Athena Foundation! Project Athena is an Arizona 501C3 that helps survivors of medical or traumatic setbacks live an adventurous dream as part of their recovery.

And our Fundraising Goddesses and Gods (people just like you!) raise the money for our Survivors' (aka Athenas and Zeuses) training, travel and all associated adventure costs. Then we ALL travel as one big team and cross the finish line together! For information about Project Athena's upcoming adventures, go to www.projectathena.org or call/text Jeri at 623-252-8497.

Just seven miles north of Sedona, in an area called Oak Creek Canyon, Slide Rock State Park offers a fun-filled day for visitors of all ages. At Slide Rock, you can picnic, hike, or bike through the former apple orchard, made famous by Oak Creek's natural water slide. The "slide" in Slide Rock is an exhilarating 80-foot-long red-rock chute that has a seven percent decline from top to bottom. Algae on the rocks creates the slippery ride. While the slide is sure to bring thrills, you can also bring an inner tube to float downstream and take a dip in one of America's top 10 most beautiful swimming holes.

www.azstateparks.com/slide-rock

Wildlife such as deer, javelina, and coyote are native to the area and can often be seen throughout the year. In addition, the park is home to more than 140 bird species. Picnic areas, charcoal grills, and two large ramadas with electrical outlets are available for gatherings or events.

DEAD HORSE RANCH STATE PARK

Located in the Coconino National Forest in Cottonwood, Dead Horse Ranch State Park has plenty of highlights that make this a favorite destination. Adjacent to the Verde River Greenway State Natural Area, an area dedicated to conserving land in its natural state, Dead Horse Ranch has a unique ecosystem, making it the perfect place to enjoy Arizona in its purest form. Keep an eye out for raptors, neotropical migrants, songbirds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians, and fish.

At an elevation of 3,300 feet, Dead Horse Ranch State Park offers mild temperatures that allow visitors to enjoy activities such as camping, biking, hiking, canoeing, and exploring. In addition, the nearby river and lagoons make the park an excellent site for beginning or seasoned anglers. The waters are stocked with Rainbow Trout throughout the winter and Channel Catfish in the warmer months, so casting a line any time of year is sure to get you a bite or two. Finally, don't let the name fool you! Dead Horse Ranch State Park is located in a beautiful area in Cottonwood, with no expired animals in sight.

JEROME

Nicknamed "The City in the Sky" or "The Wickedest Town in The West", Jerome, Arizona, was one of America's most famous and infamous mining camps. In its 70+ years as an active mining town, Jerome produced over a billion dollars worth of gold, copper, silver, and zinc, with the final mine closing in 1953. Today, Jerome is a unique and popular hillside destination for visitors eager to discover more about the Verde Valley's wines, fine art, mines, and paranormal activities. Many buildings from the late 1890s are still standing and occupied by vintage shops, restaurants, and antique stores. If spirits are what you seek, take one of Jerome's famous Ghost Tours, where you may catch a glimpse of some of Jerome's past residents, who are said to haunt the Jerome Hotel, the local hospital, and the old jailhouse.
